

FEAST CASE STUDY

Footers Catering
by Jason Sutton

I hope to still work alongside them and provide crucial feedback on how the software is being used and foster new ideas of how we can make it better.

USING TPP

13+ Years. From what I know, they signed on because of John's loyalty to his customers and his vision to work with the caterers on developing awesome software.

TPP has allowed me to enter a world of menu items with recipes and sub-recipes all based from inventory item that bring to life accurate food costs for me to calculate confident margins.

BENEFITS AND FUNCTIONALITY

When you invest your time into TPP, the software will invest back into you.

The more detailed you are the easier your work becomes.

LONG-TERM VALUE & STRATEGY

As a member of their beta team for years, we have found success in growing our warehouse pack list reports in partnership with our event producers as well as generating new menu reports for the culinary team to focus on the event and the prep kitchen respectively.
